CINCINNATI VS. ECKFORD-THE RED STOCKINGS AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

Yesterday was a lovely day for ball-playing. Providence certainly seems to favor the Red Stockings, not only with auspicious weather, but in winning victories. The Eckford game, although a much more interest-ing one than the Atlantic, was by no means as fine a game as the Mutual. The Buckeyes, since the Atlantic defeat, have been the lions of the hour among the admirers of the National game. The Atlantics were thought to be an the National game. The Atlantics were thought to be an impenetrable wall to them, but all know how easily they battered the wall down. The number that assembled to see the game yesterday was not as large as on the previous day by several thousands, yet it was the largest number that has assembled on the Union grounds this season, from 6,000 to 7,000 persons witnessing the contest. The Red Stockings were the favorites at long olds, in fact no one could be persunded to bet against them. It was thought that Martin's "medium paced" would bother them considerably. Such proved to be the case, in the final inning as the Red Stockings did not make a base—going out in one, two, three order, but Martin was not himself yesterday, and, therefore, could not keep up the style of pitching he is so famous for. For some weeks past he has been suffering from chills and fever. Yesterday he was hardly able to stand on his feet, and during the game had several chills, but with commendable energy he did his best, and deserves much credit for it. Had Martin been in condition the score would have been a much smaller one on the Red Stocking side. The result probably would have been the same, but the game would have been a very closely contested one. Asit was, it was by no means a poor or uninteresting one. Some very brilliant individual playing was made by the Eckfords. Eagler fat excelled his previous record. He made one must, but redeemed himself by six very pretty catches. Tracy, as usual, was mapproachable in the left field; five splendid flys marked his game—some of them required long runs, but he captured every one, not making a must. Allison, at the first, did well. Nelson impenetrable wall to them, but all know how easily they the left field; five splendid flys marked his game—some of them required long runs, but he captured every one, not marking a unuff. Allison, at the first, did well. Nelson made two fly-catches, but did not play up to his usual standard; neither did Patterson, at the second—both muffed several balls and made wild throws. Carlton hitherto has given promise of becoming a very sharp and effective short-stop, but played miserably. Finkham caught a fine fly, but was hardly as lively as he should be in his position. Hodes did pretty well behind, but not so well as he can do. The batting of the Eckfords was far from being up to the usual mark. Pinkham led the score; Hodes next: all the rest did not manage to make more than one hase each on clean hits.

position. Hodes did pretty well behind, but not so well as he can do. The batting of the Eckfords was far from being up to the usual mark. Pinkham led the score: Hodes next: all the rest did not manage to make more than one hase each on clean hits.

Of the Eed Stockings, but little can be said to their discredit. For a wonder, Gould muffed a fly-ball in bad style. Brainard did pretejesly the same thing he did in the Atlantic game—muffed an easy fly near the pitcher's base, and three balls were called upon him once. With these exceptions nothing marred the beautiful playof the Red Stockings. They handled the ash in spleadid style, but they did not punish Martin as they did Fratt of the Atlantics, as the score shows. Sweasy led at the bat, making his first base five times on clean hits. Alison and Leonard were next in rank. The whole nine batted well, sone getting less than two first bases on clean hits. Brainard's pitching was even, and as hard to hit as on Thesday and Wednesday. He has well carned the right to be placed among the most noted of those who have held, and who now hold, similar positions. Brooklyn, his former heme, may well feel preud of him. Allison is probably without a superior behind the bat—he stands equal at least with Craven the noted catcher of the Haymakers, and Radeliff the equally famous catcher of the Atlatics of Philadelphin. Of the others there is nothing more to be said than has been said, all of them play with astonishing proficiency both m and out fields. Harry Wright their trainer, profiting by his extensive cricket experience, has made them support each other's no other nine in the country does. This is one of the scorets of their great success. Their strough hies in their unity—each fully understands cach other's peculiarities of play, and acts necordingly. If there is a weak spot, it is probably in their inability to play to such perfection in other positions than those they now eccupy. The mere hint of this was given when Branard and Allison on the eighth inning changed positio caught two beauties in style. They batted magnineenty in the seventh, seering eight runs, G. Wright, Allison, and Waterman especially distinguishing themselves at the bat. Tracy and Eggler sgain making magnificent catches. The second whitewash, Carlion and Patterson disposing of the first man, Tracy and Eggler the other two on very pretty long flys. On the eighth they received their second whitewash, Carlion and Patterson disposing of the first man, Tracy and Eggler the other two on very pretty long flys. On the minth and last they were very pretty long flys. On the minth and last they were very pretty long flys. On the minth and last they were very pretty long flys. On the minth and last they were very pretty disposed of for a blind by fly catches by Tracy, Eggler and Pinkham.

ECKFORD.

To open their first innings the Eckfords had two men put out on a pretty double play by G. Wright, Sweasy, and Gould, and the third on the flys base. Score, 2 to 0. The second was a repetition of the first, two men going out by a pretty double play by G. Wright, Sweasy, and Gould, and the third on the first base. Score, 2 to 0. Another whitewash was added to their score on the third innings, Sweasy and Harry Wright returning Patterson and Hodes on long flies. Score, 13 to 0. In the flith, the charm was broken. Tracy made his first on a fine hit. Pinkham, who was next at the bat, made a magnificent but to the right field, making a home run—the second only that has been made against the Red Stockings on their tour, Craven of the Haymakers making the first. Harry Wright and Leonard minde good flies, and Allison a difficult foul bound. Genid, very much to the surprise of all, muffed a fly. Two runs—score, 18 to 2.

They went out in quick succession in the sixth inning, G. Wright disposing of one on a fly, and Allison another on four bound. Score, 16 to 2.

In the seventh, Hodes and Tracy made one run each. George Wright made a pretty fly-catch, as also did MeVey. Score, 21 to 4.

In the eighth they were treated to another whitewas

George Wright made a pretty hy-catch, as also did hovey.

Score, 21 to 4.

In the eighth they were treated to another whitewash,
Brainard taking a long one in the center field in fine style, Leonard retiring the third man, on a difficult foul bound catch. Score, 24 to 4.

In closing the game, they made but one more run—Hodes. McVey put out the last man on a beautifully caught fly. Score, 24 to 5.

RED STOCKING VS. IRVINGTON.

The Red Stockings visit Irvington, N. J., to-day, and will play the irvington Club this afternoon. HAYMAKERS VS. MUTUALS.

These clubs will meet for the first time this year, on the Union grounds this afternoon. As the Mntuals have never beaten the Lansingburgers, although they have several time tried their best to do so, to-day's game is sure to be a good one.

ATLANTIC VS. ROSTON PICKED NINE.

The Atlantics leave the city this afternoon by one of the Sound steamers for Boston, where to-morrow they will play a picked nine from all Boston, on the occasion of the opening of the new ball grounds in Tremont-St.

THE UNION OF LANSINGBURG.

The Union of Lansingburg, better known as the Haymakers, will arrive in this city by the Troy boat this morning.

AQUATICS.

JERSEY CITY TACHT CLUB-ANNUAL REGATTA. Yesterday was not one of those days on which yachtsmen can depend upon having a good stiff breeze, but was rather one on which they had to depend more upon their own good seamanship than to the force of their fickle motor. The wind, about the time of startof their fickle motor. The wind, about the time of starting, was due west, but ultimately changed to the south. The race, or races rather, for there were two, were well contested, the yachts with one or two exceptions, doing their best. The competing boats were divided into first and second class aloops, the former sailing over a 20-mile course, from the Central Railroad Dock round Bedice's Island to a stake-boat off McGrehau's, to the judge's boat and return. The second-class sailed 12 times from a stake-boat, round the bay, outside the dock, and back to the boat again; distance, 16 miles. The following boats were in the race:

THE TURF.

THE PROSPECT PARK RACE MEETING.

The race meeting at the Prospect Park Fair Grounds, given under the auspices and management of five of the leading members of the American Jockey Club, commences on Saturday, the 25th inst., and is continued over the 30th inst. and 3d of July. There are five races on the card for each day, all of them dashes, the managers not yielding to the plainly declared preference of the public for a combination of heat races with dashes in the programme of a day's sport. A hurdle race on the first day failed to fill, there being only one entry; but the second race, a sweepstakes for two-year-olds, $100 entrance, half forfeit, with $300 added, over three quarters of a mile, with $a 5 pound penalty for a winner at of a mile, with $\frac{3}{4}a$ 5 pound penalty for a winner at Jerome Park had nine entries, and will produce a good race. A mile dash for a purse of 300, and a two-mile dash for $400, for all ages, follow the day's sport, closing with a sweepstakes for three-year-olds, $100 each, half forfeit, with $500 added, has eight entries, and will be the most interesting race of the meeting. The distance is 14 miles, and the entries are Narragansett (who was confessedly the fastest two-year-old out last season). Fompey Payne (who recently ran a mile, second heat, in 1:44, at Lexington, Ky.).; Tasmania, the winner of the Ladies' Stake at Saratoga, for which she will have to carry a penalty of seven pounds; King Henry; Monx, sister to Larkin, and Legatee. The meeting of Pompey Payne and Narragansett in this race will be regarded with the deepest interest, and attract creat attention atmong turfmen.

On the second day, a handicap sweepstakes, for all ages, $50 entrance, half forfert, with $500 added; the second horse receiving $100 out of the stakes, commences the racing. There are 19 entries, but as little or no publicity horse receiving $100 out of the stakes, commences racing. There are 19 entries, but as little or no publi has been given to the weights, or indeed to the meet value $550, two miles and a quarter, follows, and has nine entries-Vauxball, the Uncle Vick colt, Julius, Lancaster, King Henry, Gen. Yorke, Gen. Duke, Richard B. Conolley, and Australia. This will be an exciting race, and the contest between such proved good race-horses as Lancaster, Gen. Duke, Gen. Yorke, Vauxhail and Australia, will be very interesting. The other three races on this day, are dashes at various distances, the entries for which have yet to close. The third and last day's burdle-race, like that on the entrance, half forfelt, with $500 added, has six entries, including the two cracks. Narragaussit and Pompey Payne. The fourth race is a sweepstakes for two-year-olds, three-quaffers of a mile, which has nine entries. A Consolation Purse of $400, for beaten horses, mile and a half, winds up the meeting. The Post Stakes of $100 each, p. p., with $600 added, for all ages, three miles, on the second day, and the Post Stakes of $100 each, p. p., with $700 added, four miles, on the last day, failed to fill, there being only two entries in each; consequently purses have been substituted in their places on each day. CRIME.

THE SING SING TRAGEDY.

The trial of John Burns, George Lowden, and Henry Muller for the murder of Edward Craft, one of the guards at the State Prison, Sing Sing, on the 17th day of March last, was continued in the Court of Oyer and Terminer at White Plains yesterday, when John D. Townsend, esq., of counsel for the prisoners, addressed the jury, setting forth that the prisoners, when they bound and gagged Mr. Craft, had no intention that these restraints should cause his death. John S. Bates, esq., counsel for Henry Muller, contended that his client did not participate with the other defendants in the gagging, but rather that he did all in his power to secure them from harm. Judge Barnard then explained the law of the case for the jury, who, after a short absence, returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Henry Muller, and found John Burns and George Lowden guilty of nurder in the second degree, whereupon the Court remanded Muller to the State Prison to serve out his unexpired term of imprisonment, and sentenced Lowden and Burns each to 10 years' imprisonment in the State Prison at Sing Sing, to commence at the expiration of their respective terms of imprisonment which they are now serving.

THE STEAMER QUAKER CITY.

PROOFS OF HER REAL DESTINATION-ATTEMPT OF HAYTIAN REBEL AGENTS TO BRIBE THE UNITED STATES MARSHAL-THE VESSEL RE-LEASED WITHOUT THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE HATTIAN MINISTER.

THE TRIBUNE announced yesterday morning

the release of the steamer Quaker City alias the Columbia, from the custody of the United States Marshal on Wednesday afternoon, and her departure immediately afterward on a foreign voyage. This vessel, it will be remembered, was originally seized in this port on information given by the Spanish authorities here, to the effect that she was being fitted out as a privateer for the Cuban insurgents. After being held for some days was released, on bonds being given to the full amount of her value-$75,600-that she would not engage in any warlike operations against Spain; but within a few hours after her liberation she was again seized by the Marshal on information of the Minister of Hayti to the United States, Gen. Laroche, setting forth that the vessel was about to sail for a Haytian port, with the intention to commit hostilities against the citizens and property of Hayti, with whom the United States are at peace. Put in other words, the charge was to the effect that the Quaker City, alias the Columbia, is intended for Nissage Saget, the principal leader of the existing rebelion in Hayti, and the self-constituted President of what is called the Republic of the North of which the capital is St. Marc. Of her ultimate destination, and of the purposes for which is intended, there can be no doubt. She has been fully altered in this port by her present owners, so as to transform her from a harmless merchant steamer to a powerful man-of-war, complete in every particular excepting her armament. The armament has been fully altered in this port wessels to St. Marc, and is there awaiting her arrival, a part of it being a 22-pounder rified gun. The insurgent Haytians have made no secret of their having secured this vessel, and her arrival has abeen confidently looked for at St. Marc for the last two weeks. On the release of the Quaker City hast Friday afternoon, preparations were commenced for her immediate departner; but, owing to the promptitude with which steps were taken for her detending hy Gen Lareche and Mr.D.A. Hawkins, the counsel for the Hayting of the material were to board, on Friday night, armod cith authority to detain her, he found things in a forward state for starting, the rebel agents being discovered over their wine, in high glee at the prospect of getting off, and drinking success to their ship and the enterprise in which they were about to embark, on the Marshal amounting the which seep and the enterprise in which they were about to embark on the Marshal went on board, on Friday night, armod cith authority to detain her, he found hings in a forward state for starting, the reb in a few hours after her liberation she was again seized by the Marshal on information of the Minister of Hayti to the United States, Gen. Laroche, setting forth that the leave the vessel; told him I did not belong to the vessel, and would not be stopped by any one; he took hold of me three or four times, and tore my coal; the first mate then came up and told Adams he had better let me go, but said to me, "damn you, you won't come aboard again;" never told him that I was a keeper of the vessel. Levi Feist, another keeper, testified; Saw a scuffle between Adams and Langton; Langton tried to go ashore, and Adams detained him; told Adams that we were keepers, and he had no right to detain us on board; he said ke had his orders; he then called up the first mate, who let Langton off. It was contended by coursel for the vessel was sharply a prisaid he had his orders; he then called up the first male, who let Langton off. It was contended by counsel for the defense that Langton was simply a private watchman employed by the Marshal, and was not a United States officer, and that therefore the statute declaring it to be a criminal offense to resist an efficer of the United States in the discharge of his duty did not cover this case.

Adams was held in $1.500 bxil, to appear for trial. KINGS COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS-DISRE-

As it was the lives of the immates of the County Buildings were endangered. During the discussion which followed, it was stated that the bodies of paupers and persons unclaimed were placed in a large excavation or pit, and if, as frequently happened, friends came to claim the remains, it was difficult to get them out, and never without disturbing the other bodies, which cansed a noisome odor which spread over the neighborhood.

The contract entered into between Mr. Francis Mc-Neeley, keeper of the Penitentiary, on the part of the county, and C. D. Bigelow of Brooklyn, L. B. Horn of Jersey City, and H. and L. PARDON OF THOMAS LAFON, JR.

Thomas Lafon, jr., the young man who was convicted at Newark, N. J., in February last, of manslaughter in killing Joseph Hebing, was pardoned on Tuesday by the Court of Pardons sitting at Trenton. The prisoner, it may be remembered, attacked young Hebing in defense of a younger brother—who was fighting with the latter—and struck him a violent blow with a shovel, from the effects of which Hebing died. At the trial all the influence of a wealthy and respectable family was brought to bear to secure the acquittal of Lafon, and two of New-Jersey's ablest lawyers were engaged in his defense. The struggle between the counsel for the prisoner and the Prosecutor of the Pleas affected the entire community, and two parties—the laboring class and Germans, to which nationally Hebing belonged, and the numerous friends of the prisoner's family—canvassed the case, and joined in the excitement. Clergymen sat by the side of the young prisoner during his trial, and documents were circulated by the lady members of his church urging his acquittal. The closing day of his trial brought together the largest crowd that was ever seen in a Newark court-room, and the yard surrounding the Court-House was also filled with an eager throng. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty with a recommendation of mercy, and the prisoner was sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the State Prison and to pay a fine of $500. A motion for a new trial, which was made by the Hon. C. Parker of counsel for the defense, was not granted. Tuesday by the Court of Pardons sitting at Trenton successful operation, the Camden and Amboy Company, through Judge Beaseley, had an injunction against running through trains placed upon it, on the ground that the company had not compiled with the requirements of its charter, by failing to build a section about nine miles east of Jackson. The last Legislature having legalized the only remaining section—the Batso branch, ½ miles, from Jackson to Atsion—no objection will hereafter be made to running through trains, and the Camden and Amboy Road has agreed to withdraw their suit against the company. The bondholders, creditors, and stockholders of the Raritan and Delaware Bay Company have amicably agreed upon foreclosing all claims against the company, and reorganizing under the revised charter. Under the new arrangements most of the stock of the road will be held by Eastern men, who have advanced funds toward placing the equipments of the road on a substantial basis. Hereafter there will be a competing line for the Philadelphia travel, and a section of country will be benefited in a manner that it has long needed. successful operation, the Camden and Amboy Company, Littlejohn, President of the Midland Railroad; the Hon. H. R. Low, E. P. Wheeler, esq., and others. The Midland Railroad Company ask a further appropriation of $100,000 from the village of Middletown for purchasing the right of way through the village. The town is already bonded for $300,000 in aid of the road. There has been a decided opposition manifested heretofore by the citizens against any further assessments, but the arguments of the officers of the road at the meeting were so effective that it is probable the additional $100,000 can now be raised. Mr. Littlejohn stated in his address that the road was being constructed at an average cost of about $22,000 a mile, including rolling stock. The entire life will be placed under contract within $00 days, and will be completed from this place to New-York, it is expected, in eighteen months.

The river that supplies Paris with water contains large quantities of limestone. Not only travelers and strangers, but the native population of Paris, suffer the most distressing aunopance from its powerful dirrette and weakening effects on the kidneys, bladder, and boxels. Such dis-tressing annoyance do the people who drink this water suffer, that every treaming annoyance to be partial three or four minutes, almost like quicksliver, it passes out of the system from the bowels and through the kidneys, bladder and orethrs, rendering a promensale at all times, especially to ladies, a painful and to strangers mortifying exertion; beside the constant drain on these organs induces be most serious diseases of the kidneys, bladder, uteros, bowels, &c., that often require years to correct and remove. Hundreds of Americans who have visited Paris and other parts of Europe have returned bruken down to health, and their hidneys, bladder, and other organs almost destroyed from the terrible effects of these waters. To remedy this great evil, and enable travelers to drink the waters of the Seine, and. in fact,
